EQUUS VETS SEPTEMBER NEWSLETTER 2023

FOR BREEDING, FOR SPORT FOR LIFE

Providing you with a dedicated and experienced equine only vets, 24 hours a day in Devon and East Cornwall

MEET THE AMBULATORY TEAM!!

We have some lovely new clients who have just joined us and existing clients who have perhaps not yet met all of our vets. I have managed to get each of them to provide a little bio on themselves and an array of pictures so you can put a face to their name should they have to come out and visit you!

Hayden – The BIG Boss!

I have been at Equus Vets/North Park Veterinary Group for just over thirteen years now. During the point-to-point season I act as the Senior Vet for many fixtures in Devon and I am also a member of the Association of Racecourse Veterinary Surgeons. Recently, during the summer months I have also been asked to attend several GB Endurance rides as the treating vet in Devon and Cornwall. I have a keen interest in all aspects of clinical work, especially medicine.

Outside of work I have hunted with many packs in the Southwest and team chased but with work commitments this has taken a back seat! When not on duty I also like to attend the races and following the success of clients and hopefully not having to pick up too many pieces on a Monday morning. At home I have one miniature dachshund called Agnes and two rather large cats called Princess Wilhelmina and Wesley and several equines.

Aeisha aka AJ! – with us Full time

Hi, I'm Aeisha and I joined Equus in May 2022. I graduated from Cambridge Vet School in 2020 and worked in Somerset prior to moving back home to Devon. I enjoy all aspects of equine work and am particularly interested in diagnostic imaging. When I'm not working, I can usually be found enjoying the views on Dartmoor on horseback. I am a keen polo player and was fortunate enough to play at the Guards polo club Oxford v Cambridge Varsity match during my time at vet school, although sadly playing in hilly Devon is a little difficult!

Gemma – with us Monday and Wednesday

I enjoy the variety and challenges that being a GP equine vet brings every day! I have worked in Devon as an equine Vet for almost 20 years. I now work part-time, balancing the love of my job with family life. When I'm not examining and treating horses, I am supporting my 2 young boys with their busy active lives and husband, Andrew (also a vet) who is competing for GBR at the World Triathlon Championships this September!

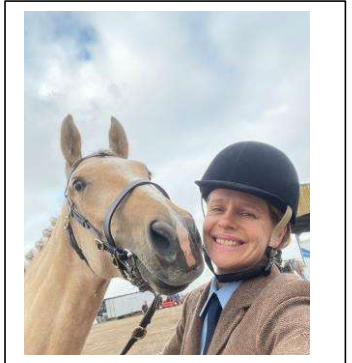

I have 2 horses of my own, Elita and Meg. I am an active member of Holsworthy Riding Club, organising training and events; I'm vice-chair of the school PTA. I also enjoy walking my dog, especially on Dartmoor and the South West Coast Path which I am aiming to complete....eventually!

Zoe – with us Tuesday, Thursday, Friday

I love working as an equine vet, the best part of my job is being able to help the relationship between you and your horses. Whether that is with routine health care such as acupuncture and massage, behavioral work or treating illness and injury.

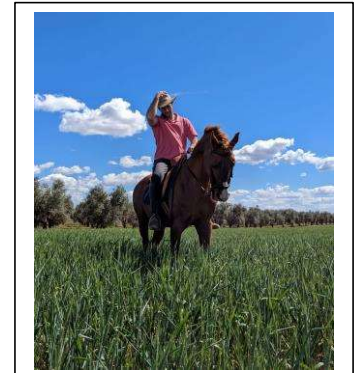

This is a picture of Forans Golden River (River), my 3-year-old Irish Draught filly whom I qualified for the breed show at Onley Equestrian Centre recently. She was very well behaved and came home with a 2nd and 4th in her classes.

Javier – with us one week a month & can then be found in sunny Spain!

I have a deep passion for horses and a career dedicated to their care, I am a veterinarian specialized in equines. My love for these majestic animals has driven me to work tirelessly to ensure they are in the best health and well-being.

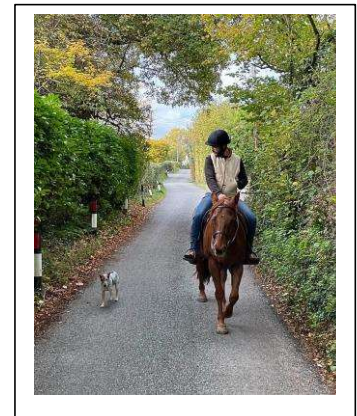

When I'm not at the veterinary clinic, you can find me enjoying the outdoors and connecting with nature. Riding horses has been my passion since I was a child, and it is a fundamental part of my life. Additionally, I love surfing; gliding over the waves is an exciting and relaxing experience for me.

Matteo – is one of our repro vets and mostly found at Newton Stud, but ventures out when we have an overflow of calls and also covers out of hours

I graduated at the University of Pisa in 2017. After graduation I did an externship in an Equine Hospital in the UK, before deciding to move overseas to work in 2018. I worked in Somerset with a mixed large animal clinic for 4 years before moving to Gloucestershire to be a stud vet. My main interests are stud work and foal medicine. I recently completed a Certificate as an advanced practitioner in Equine Stud Medicine.

During my time off, in the winter mainly, I enjoy going out for walks with my dogs, shooting and some fishing. I recently decided to start western riding again, as I used to do in Italy, and bought a quarter horse filly that I'm looking forward to break in this winter. I enjoy cooking and having lots of bbq's and pizza parties with friends.
